Problems Facing Agricultural Marketing Co-opertaive Societies  The case of Moshi District, Tanzania

ByJudith TairoThe Nordic Agriculture College, Denmark, 1993

This project papers dealt with analysis of problem facing agricultural marketing co-operative societies in Moshi district. It tries to suggest solutions which may reduce some of the problems to enable the marketing cooperatives to operate eeffectively. In brief outline the suggested solutions consist of a combination of training programme covering management skills, financial management, cooperative attitudes, and commerce.
